

LITANY FOR CARLETON MEN.

From men who indulge in the use of powder and from frosh whose caps repose on the head in a position resembling that of a peanut on a mountain peak...

-JxJ-

Dear Jake: Shades of Bull Mountain! I swear that I left Alkali Ike bruised, bumped and bleeding among the crags.

The buzzards were hovering up in the sky, With gluttonous squaking and hissing cry, Waiting, lean-bellied, their time to draw nigh...

It was an epic. He died with his rubbers on. We fought fairly a fight to the finish. And now an imposter rises to carry on his name.

-The Black Blade of Bull Mountain.

Strange enough, Black Blade, there does seem to be ghosts and imposters enough around, for the other day we found the following sprightly manifestation in our mail box.

-JxJ-

Jake Dear: It comes to me inadvertently that my erstwhile enemy the Black Blade has declared me dead.

I weep the death of Bookworm. There was a man. But this Dark-Colored Corn-Leaf of the High Bovine Altitudes, this Murky Case-Knife of the Toreador's Paradise...

Ever jakely yours, Alkali Ike.

(Please pardon the dialect in this missive. In the interim covering my reported demise I have been attending "dear old Hahvahr."

Dear Jake: I was much amused at the editorial in your esteemed contemporary, the "Carletonian," anent the plan of the Arbitration Board...

Backfield Shift Likely.

The starting lineup in the backfield will depend to a certain extent upon the condition of the Mac field. If the turf is muddy or covered with snow, Willegalle will probably be used instead of Simso.
